CYBEREASON RANSOMFREE IS NO LONGER AVAILABLE FOR DOWNLOAD

December 8, 2018

We appreciate your interest in and support of RansomFree, and we are committed to providing the highest quality products and services to our customers.

We have decided, however, to discontinue availability and support for Cybereason RansomFree (note: if you have previously downloaded Cybereason RansomFree, it will remain functional on your computer for an indeterminate period of time).

Effective November 29, 2018, we stopped permitting new downloads of RansomFree. Cybereason will not maintain or provide corrections, updates or new versions of the software and will not provide any support to customers who continue to use it.

We encourage you to you to consider licensing other Cybereason products that may offer a solution appropriate to your needs and/or the needs of your organization.
